Overview of Kumon San Rafael

Kumon San Rafael is part of the global Kumon Education Network, which has been delivering supplemental education for over six decades. The center in San Rafael adopts the Kumon Method, a unique self-learning program that encourages students to develop strong math and reading skills through daily practice and incremental challenges. This method is designed to nurture independent learning habits, enabling students to approach academic tasks with confidence and competence.

History and Mission

The Kumon center in San Rafael is committed to supporting children's academic growth by providing a tailored curriculum that meets individual learning needs. The mission focuses on helping students build a solid foundation in mathematics and reading, which are critical for success in school and beyond. Kumon San Rafael aims to create a positive, encouraging environment where students can thrive and enjoy learning.

Teaching Approach

The Kumon method involves daily worksheets that gradually increase in difficulty. This approach allows students to master each concept before moving on to more complex topics, ensuring deep understanding and retention. Instructors at Kumon San Rafael closely monitor progress and provide personalized guidance to help each student reach their full potential.

Kumon Programs Offered

Kumon San Rafael offers two core academic programs: Math and Reading. Each program is carefully structured to support skill development from early childhood through high school, allowing students to progress beyond their grade level at their own pace.

Math Program

The Kumon Math program focuses on building strong arithmetic skills, logical reasoning, and problem-solving abilities. Starting with basic counting and number recognition, the curriculum advances through addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, fractions, decimals, algebra, and calculus. The program emphasizes mastery of foundational concepts to enable students to handle more challenging math topics confidently.

Reading Program

The Reading program at Kumon San Rafael helps students improve their comprehension, vocabulary, and critical thinking skills. It begins with phonics and basic reading, progressing to advanced literature analysis and essay writing. This program is designed to develop a lifelong love of reading and enhance verbal communication skills essential for academic success.

Additional Support

Beyond the core programs, Kumon San Rafael provides individualized support tailored to each student's needs, including diagnostic assessments and progress evaluations. This ensures that instruction is customized, helping students overcome specific challenges and accelerate their learning journey.
