Core Principles and Teachings

At the heart of science and health with key to the scriptures are principles that define its approach to understanding human existence, health, and spirituality. The text presents a metaphysical framework asserting that true reality is spiritual rather than material. The Nature of God and Reality

The book describes God as infinite, all-powerful, and wholly good, defining God as the ultimate reality and source of all life. This theological foundation underpins the idea that human beings are spiritual reflections of God's perfection. Consequently, the material world, including sickness and death, is viewed as an illusion or false perception that can be corrected through spiritual understanding.

Spiritual Mind and Healing
